MAJOR ACCIDENT PREVENTION POLICY

As Poliport Kimya Sanayi ve Ticaret A.Ş., our core policy is to prevent major industrial accidents, to minimize the impact of any major accidents that may occur on human health and the environment, and to provide high-level, effective and continuous protection.
To achieve this goal, we aim to:

- Establish an active Security Management System,
- Give responsibility to all operational levels to improve our safety performance,
- Ensure that all our customers and subcontractors take an active role in the program we create.

Within this scope, as Poliport Kimya Sanayi ve Ticaret A.Ş., we commit to:

- Starting with the CEO, clearly defining all management levels and obligations and accountability responsibilities related to ensuring the safety performance of our employees,
- Measuring the performance of our Safety Management System and the degree to which objectives are achieved, and making safety performance an important part of our enterprise/personnel evaluation system,
- Seeing perfection in safety as a duty and eliminating or minimizing all risks, including human factors, by creating hazard Identification and risk management processes, including the reporting system,
- Providing a qualified workforce and the necessary financial resources to achieve our safety goals, and continuously improving safety,
- Complying with applicable national legislation, applicable international standards and other obligations related to the Safety Management System, and continuously improving our system,
- As required by our integrated management systems, continuously monitoring the effectiveness of the Safety Management System, increasing participation in the audit process, and implementing corrective and preventive actions when necessary,
- Investigating safety-related complaints and suggestions conveyed to our business by our customers, employees, subcontractors and visitors with a transparent and impartial approach, and finding solutions and taking permanent measures as soon as possible,
- Giving due importance to the training and development of our employees in the Safety Management System, and continuously improving the Safety Management System,
- Supporting all safety-enhancing decisions made by our employees and all voluntary safety reports they submit,
- Performing the necessary checks to ensure that externally provided systems and services comply with our safety performance standards,
- Being prepared for emergencies involving major industrial accidents, developing emergency plans, regularly testing and reviewing them through drills, and ensuring the necessary coordination with relevant parties,
- Systematically assess and manage the risks of major accidents that may arise from changes to facilities, processes, equipment, organisation and hazardous substances prior to such changes,
- Within the framework of a just culture, not punishing any employee who reports a safety problem through the hazard reporting system, except in cases of illegal action, gross negligence, or intentional or willful failure to comply with regulations or procedures.
